

Are You Ready for Peak Season Fulfillment Rush?

The busiest season of the year is almost here when order fulfillment becomes a challenge. Follow this ultimate checklist to enjoy a successful peak & increased revenue without much hassle.

01

CHECK HISTORICAL DATA

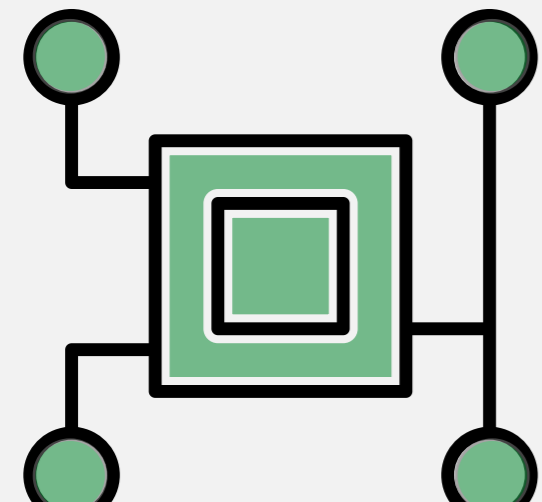

Check every data source to have a rightly-stocked inventory. Analyzing the SKU history will help you predict items that are more in demand.

02

BE DIGITALLY READY

The holiday season means more online store traffic. Be prepared to handle it so that visitors do not experience a site outage.

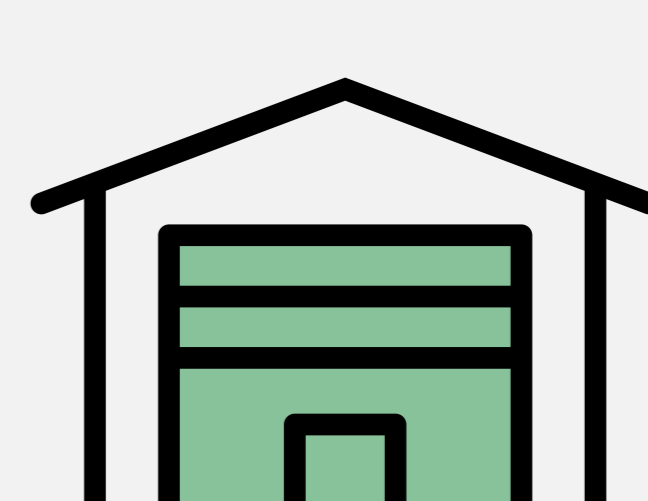

03

CHECK THE SPACE

Make sure there is enough space available to handle increased peak season volume and that it is organized for optimal order processing.

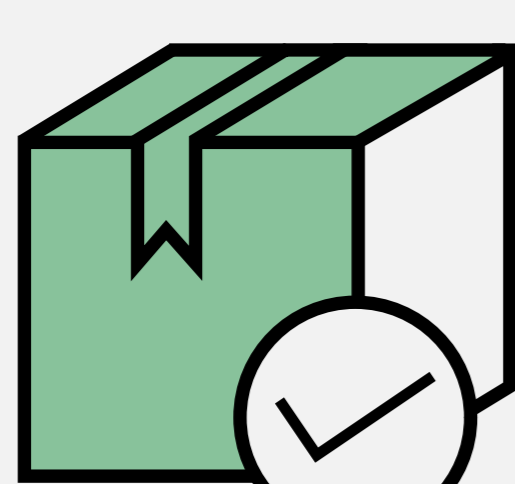

Consider partnering with an experienced 3PL.

SELF FULFILLMENT PROCESS

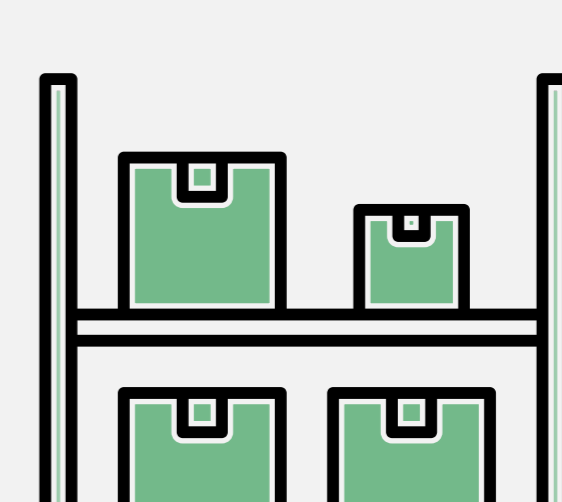

Keep your incoming products compliant for example, correctly barcoded and packaged, so inventory can be put into stock quickly for faster turnaround.

05

KEEP INVENTORY READY

Check the YoY historical & demand-forecasting data to keep your inventory well-stocked and avoid risking shortages.

IMPLEMENT INVENTORY MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

For a successful peak, invest in a hi-tech inventory management system that accurately tracks your stock in real time.

DOUBLE-CHECK 3RD PARTY INTEGRATIONS

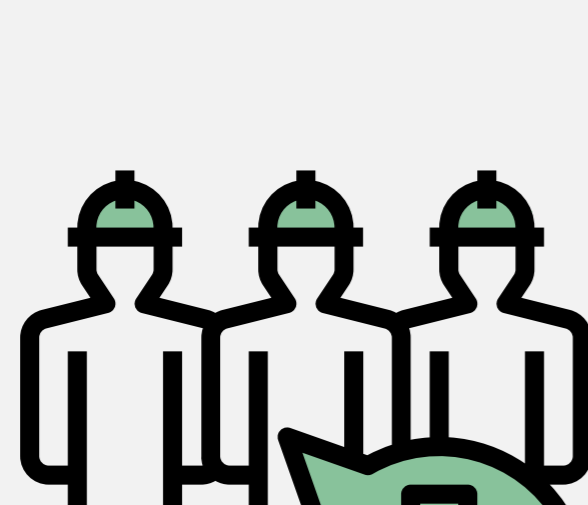

If a third-party partner is used, ensure that their systems are integrated and functioning well. With countless customers visiting your online store, you can't afford to risk a system failure.

AVOID LABOR SHORTAGE

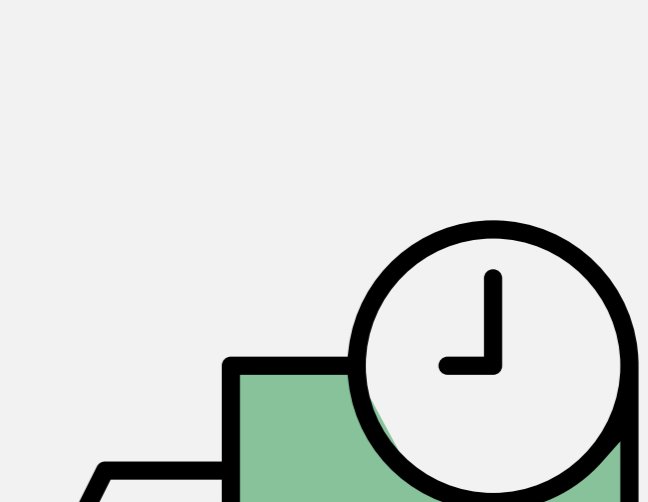

To steer clear of staff shortage during the peak season analyze previous holiday seasons, plan ahead, and take hiring of season-staff seriously.

OFFER DELIVERY OPTIONS

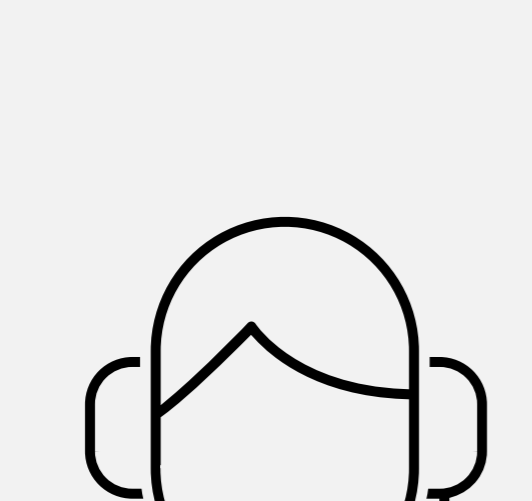

Make sure to offer a variety of shipping and delivery options, as more & more customers are looking for self-pickup, on-demand delivery, and scheduled on demand delivery options.

PROVIDE IMPECCABLE CUSTOMER SERVICE

From product questions to delivery-status updates, ensure that your customer service is ready to support your customers in need.
